- For the avoidance of doubt, the Director-General of Conservation may confirm and append advice previously given in response to a panel convener's directions under s 51(1) on another project and does not need to provide an assessment of the approval pursuant to s 51(2)(c) if it concurs with the expert and planning assessments filed by the applicant.

- The Director-General of Conservation is to respond to the draft conditions, including any management plan attached to the application, recommending track-changed amendments (if any).

Any advice or report received will be provided by the EPA to the persons listed in section 51(5).

The panel convener has issued a Minute dated 17 November 2026 which outlines the panel convenor's directions in more detail. The Minute is attached as Appendix 1 to this letter.

The Department of Conservation must provide the reports [and advice] within 10 working days of comments being invited in accordance with section 51(4)(a) of the Act.

The EPA is assessing the whether the application is complete and in scope under section 46 of the Act and whether it has any competing applications or existing resource consents for the same activity under section 47A of the Act. You will be notified of the decisions the EPA makes. Should the application be returned or withdrawn then you will be notified by the EPA and all work on preparing the report under section 51 must cease.
